

Because of you we have beat the odds and have stayed in business 10 years!
THANK YOU for helping us in our “Relentless Pursuit of Perfection”

Featured Customer

James Gordon, Nampa

James has been a loyal customer since 2005. Last year, he contracted us to install the landscape at his new home in Hunter’s Point Subdivision. The lot is adjacent to the common area berm so it was a perfect location for the pondless water feature we created. The waterfall adds a lot to the natural feel of the back yard. The paver patio turned out very well and has expanded his back yard for entertaining. Thank you James for allowing us to take our artistic ability to the next level!

The Irrigation Association offers these water-saving tips to maintain and update automatic irrigation systems:

- Adapt your watering schedule to the weather and the season
- Schedule each independent zone in your irrigation system
- Inspect your system monthly for leaks and broken or clogged heads
- Adjust sprinkler heads — keep water off pavement and structures
- Get a professional system audit — hire a professional to test to make sure areas are being watered evenly
- Consider “smart” technology — sensor-based controllers evaluate weather or soil moisture conditions and then calculate and automatically adjust the irrigation schedule
- Install a rain shutoff switch — the device can be retrofitted to almost any system!
- Consider low volume drip irrigation for plant beds
- Water at the optimum time and only when needed — you can lose as much as 30% of water to evaporation and over-watering results in shallow roots, weed growth, disease and fungus
